Administrative history / Biographical sketch

Note

The Grand Manan Red Cross Society and its village auxiliaries were formed 7 February 1940. Forty women and 6 men attended a meeting held at Shorecrest Lodge, North Head, Grand Manan Island, New Brunswick. Mrs. Calvin Scovil was elected president; Mrs. Hazen Daggett, Mrs. H. Bryant, Mrs. Sumner Zwicker, and Miss Alice Ingalls were elected vice-presidents. The secretary elected was Mrs. J.R. Parker, and Mrs. Wellington Flagg was elected treasurer.

Mother and friends formed Red Cross groups, helped to send comfort to the boys overseas, and when the war was over, finished raising money for two memorials, one erected in front of the Church of Ascension at North Head, the other between the United Baptist and the Wesleyan Church at Seal Cove.

Looking back, it is ironical that only one year after Dr. Macaulay's death an event would occur that led to the establishment of the Hospital for Grand Manan. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ingersoll, an elderly North Head couple, were killed on the mainland when their car was struck by a train at a level crossing. When their Will was read it was revealed they had bequeathed their spacious home to the people of the island for use as a hospital.

The local Red Cross Society, aided by the N.B. Division quickly responded and with the guidance of Dr. H. Russell Bryant who had taken over the Macaulay practice, the Ingersoll home eventually emerged as "The Red Cross Outpost Hospital." Funding was a problem in the early days as the board of trustees wrestled with the annual deficit, a situation that continued until the war ended. The local Red Cross developed into a hospital auxiliary and, with fairs and other projects provided tremendous aid. Finally, a hospital tax was authorized by the N.B. Government strictly for the Island district and that continued until the Government's Equal Opportunity Program came into effect in 1967.

Custodial history

Roberta Ingalls, an active member of the Grand Manan Red Cross during the Second World War, assembled most of the records in this fonds from former branch presidents. The fonds was donated to the Grand Manan Museum and placed in the Grand Manan Archives in 1988.

Scope and content

This fonds documents the activities of the Grand Manan Red Cross Society. There are minutes, notices, fundraising information, correspondence about the operations of the branch, and presidents' records. Also included are annual reports from the provincial and national chapters of the organization, 1941-1967.
